WITH TODD SHAW

Todd Shaw is the Founder and President of On Track Ministry (a motorsports outreach ministry), an Author, and a sought after speaker with churches and non-profit organizations, as well as corporate groups.

Growing up, Todd learned many valuable lessons by working on his grandfather's farm, in scouts he earned the highest award-Eagle Scout and in karate he earned a 2nd degree black belt. In the work place, he has a multi-faceted career background which includes construction, health care, owning and managing several restaurants, owning an automotive shop and serving as a Youth Pastor. From this list, you can see why Todd can connect with almost any group and what makes him so desirable to groups and companies as a teacher, trainer and inspirational speaker.

Todd has the know-how for motivating people to action. The principles he teaches are tried and true methods; ones that many are still living out today. Pat Williams, vice president of the Orlando Magic, cited Todd's skill in leading and encouraging others by including many contributions in his book Coaching Your Kids To Be Leaders.

With a contagious enthusiasm and quick wit, Todd's heartbeat is "application" so listeners will walk away with practical steps toward improving their company, their life, or their relationship with Christ.

What are others saying?

Mark Hall of Casting Crowns writes "For the past 8 years I've known Todd Shaw as a friend and partner in ministry. Todd has a pastor's heart and loves the ministry that God has given him. He connects with people because he is real, and that is what people want..."
